On 8 September 2017 United States Senator and Majority Whip John Cornyn of Texas along with United States Senators Jim Inhofe and James Lankford of Oklahoma, United States Senator John Boozman of Arkansas and United States Senator Mike Rounds of South Dakota became Lifetime Associate Members of International Wildlife Crimestoppers, IWC in recognition of their overwhelming support of the IWC mission within their respective States as well as in Congress. The presentation to Senators Lankford, Cornyn and Inhofe was made by IWC International Liaison Marty Markl while on their annual dove hunt in Oklahoma while Senator Boozman and Senator Rounds presentations were made in abstention.

IWC represents the State and Provincial Fish and Wildlife Departments of North America and all the dedicated law enforcement professionals dedicated to protecting our natural resources from those that would steal them through poaching and non-sustainable use. IWC, in conjunction with the Outdoor Tomorrow Foundation (OTF), have joined forces to establish the OTF Outdoor Trails Program in the nations schools teaching our youth about the sustainable use of our natural resources and the importance of eliminating poaching. IWC assists in training and providing funding for global anti poaching programs.
